KOMPUTER ENTHUSIASTS OF GREATER SEATTLE

Ron Cowger

Hi Everyone,

I hope that each of you had a wonderful holiday season and were able to spend some enjoyable time with friends and family during this special season. My favorite part of the Holidays is getting together with friends and family over some tasty meals and while enjoying some special wines. According to my bathroom scales, I might have had a little too many wonderful holiday meals. It's time to start the almost-continuous dieting again.

As I am writing this column for our Newsletter, I am still trying to set up a vendor presentation for our January meeting. Even though I started this search before the middle of December, I have been finding it very difficult to reach people during the holiday season and recently learned that one of the fellows that I need to contact has extended his vacation until January 7th. Therefore, I will not be able to firm up the presentation until after that time. Please be flexible. We may have to resort to an in-house presentation this month if the vendor is unable to help us.

I hope that by the time you read this column, each of you has renewed his/her membership in KEGS. At the same time, I hope that you will also try to recruit someone else to join KEGS this year. I encourage you to talk to your friends, family members, business associates and acquaintances about KEGS. Almost everyone uses a computer, PDA or digital camera these days and would benefit from the information and services that KEGS provides. Our membership has been falling fairly rapidly over the last couple of years and each of us needs to do whatever he/she can to help stop this unfavorable trend. As I'm sure that you can understand, when we are trying to encourage vendors to speak to our organization, they almost always ask how many members we have. It would be a lot easier to entice them to send us a speaker if we had one hundred members than if we had fifty. Please help our organization by bringing in at least one new member this year.

As a member of KEGS, you need to know that the folks who manage the North Bellevue Community Center are analyzing the pros and cons of reconfiguring the Center to make it more versatile. One of the proposals that is being considered is removing the tables and computers that currently make up the Computer Lab and replacing them with a portable lab that could be rolled into almost any room and used there. The new equipment would consist of a number of laptop computers, an instructor's laptop and a digital projector all of which would be housed in a secure cart that would support the recharging of the laptops when they were not in use. KEGS has provided some preliminary pricing information on these types of equipment and we are now waiting to see what the Parks and Recreation folks will decide to do next. Exactly how the proposed changes might affect the SIGs that meet at NBCC is still unknown. I will keep you updated as more information becomes available.

I hope to see you at the January meeting. I'm sure that we will spend some time during the meeting discussing any neat electronic gadgets that the members received for Christmas. Happy and safe computing!
