TAPPING THE

KOMPUTER ENTHUSIASTS OF GREATER SEATTLE

About a year ago, I asked each of you to help us keep the KEGS website up to date and useful to all of those who may visit it. So I must ask – When did you last go to the KEGS website to check meeting schedules or seek other user group information that you wanted? The Board is always interested in keeping the information on the KEGS website up to date and useful. I think you'll agree that our web site is our "face to the outside world" as non-members probably look there to learn more about our organization. Therefore, the site should be attractive, useful and informative. If you don't find the site to be useful to you, please let one of the members of the Board know so that we can try to implement any suggestions that you may have. Please give it some thought.

If you attended the September General Meeting I hope that you found the information entitled "Social Media for the Non-Tweeter" by Pam Holland of Tech-Moxie to be helpful and interesting. (As a non-tweeter myself, I found the topic very appropriate.) We had to scramble and find a presentation for the meeting after Steve hurt his shoulder in a fall and could not attend the meeting as planned.

I hope you also had a chance to appreciate some of the excellent information that is available to all of us through the videos that are created by experts who are fellow members of APCUG and then posted on the Internet for your access. I recommend that you poke around a little on the APCUG website at APCUG2.org and see what they have to offer. An even easier way to find good information is to go to YouTube.com and search for APCUG videos. There are lots of videos on interesting topics available there.

If you attended the September General Meeting, you may have felt that the Sunset Room at the Peter Kirk Community Center (PKCC) was not the best meeting location for our group. As you may know, the folks at PKCC have given the larger room that we have used in the past to an after-school activity and moved our meeting to the smaller room. Because so many members were unhappy with the alternate location, the Board of Directors discussed this issue at their last meeting. The decision was made to have the next General Meeting, on October 9th, in Classroom D of the North Bellevue Community Center. If this location is not better than the Sunset Room at PKCC, other alternatives may be discussed.

Please give any feedback that you may have concerning the meeting location to a Board member so that we can consider as many ideas as possible.

Also, starting in October, we will be looking for members who are interested in serving on the KEGS Board of Directors. I encourage each of you to consider volunteering some of your time to help run our user group. The Board meets once a month for less than two hours so most jobs on the Board don't take too much of a member's time. If you feel that the organization needs some new ideas and fresh faces on the Board, please volunteer to serve for a year. Just tell any member of the Board that you are interested and he/she will give your name to the Nominating Committee. Thank you for giving it some thought. The election of members of the Board of Directors will be held in December at the General Meeting.

That's it for now. I will see you soon at a General Meeting or at one of our SIGs. I wish you happy and safe computing!
