TAPPING THE

KOMPUTER ENTHUSIASTS OF GREATER SEATTLE

Hi Everyone,

Is anyone besides me getting tired of all of the wet, chilly weather that we have been having lately? Boy, am I ready for spring! However, since we still have a long time to wait, I guess that we will just have to spend more of our time doing indoor activities. One of those activities might be working on your computer. Perhaps you need to upgrade or update a major component. Or perhaps it's time for you to do a little housecleaning of those old unused files and applications that you will never use again and that are just taking up valuable hard drive space. Whatever it is that you need to do, you know that if you have a question or problem, there is probably another member within KEGS who can help you out. That's one of the most important benefits of being a member. You have renewed your membership for 2008, haven't you? If not, I encourage you to do so as soon as possible.

The planned presentation for this month's General Meeting will be a demonstration of Microsoft Home Server. Almost all of us have more than one computer in our homes and it will be interesting to see how a home server could enhance the functionality of our interconnected computers. I'm looking forward to learning something about this fairly new product. I'm told that it's simple to set up and results in a number of useful network-like features without all of the complexities of setting up a conventional network.

As I have mentioned in previous columns, I hope that you will try to recruit someone new to join KEGS this year. I encourage you to talk to your friends, family members, business associates and acquaintances about KEGS. Almost everyone uses a computer, PDA or digital camera these days and would benefit from the information and services that KEGS provides. Our membership numbers have been falling fairly rapidly over the last couple of years and each of us needs to do whatever he/she can to help stop this unfavorable trend. As I'm sure that you can understand, when we are trying to encourage vendors to speak to our organization, they almost always ask how many members we have. It would be a lot easier to entice them to send speakers to our meetings if we had one hundred members than if we had fifty. Please help our organization by bringing in at least one new member this year.

As I am writing this column, I do not have any new information about Bellevue's plan to reconfigure the computer lab at the North Bellevue Community Center. As far as I know, they still plan to purchase a mobile lab and do away with the fixed lab in the room where it currently exists. The lab room will then be dedicated to other activities that the Center provides to the community. The timetable for these changes and how they will affect KEGS is unknown at this time. I will keep you updated as more information becomes available.

I hope to see you at the February meeting. Happy and safe computing!
