KOMPUTER ENTHUSIASTS OF GREATER SEATTLE

Prez Says:

Gerald Smith

Welcome to a New Year! We are still unable to meet evenings at the North Bellevue Community Center. The Omicron variant has caused many cancellations of events and airline flights.

On January 10th, our General Meeting program will be "Computers to the Moon" presented by Mark Schulman. From Mercury to Gemini to Apollo, Mark Schulman tells us the history of the computers used to get us to the moon. These computers needed to: navigate from the earth to the moon, continuously update position and attitude, control spacecraft's engines and thrusters, perform calculations and display data in real time, and receive remote updates from the ground. Using logic built entirely with integrated circuits, these computers did priority multitasking, etc. It is amazing to realize that the smartphone you carry with you every day has more computing power than the computers used to reach the moon. Please join us via Zoom for Mark Schulman's interesting presentation.

We always need more members, so please let others know about the informative Zoom meetings we have monthly and all of the free help we offer.
